The IIK Düsseldorf would like to introduce itself

IIK's mission is best defined as „understanding the world“. Since 1989, when the IIK was established as a non-profit company by the German Linguistics department of Heinrich-Heine-University, it has become one of Germany's most successful providers of university-oriented language education and communication training.

Internationalization and Foreign Languages

The IIK focuses on many areas of language development and offers a variety of courses for students and professionals:

- study courses that cater to a younger audience
- special „crash courses“ for graduates
- a wide variety of additional language and communication training courses

Language proficiency:

- German
- English
- Dutch
- French
- Spanish

Examination Centre

As an internationally licensed test center, we provide testing for professional and student-oriented exams used around the world. Approximately 3.000 students take the test for English studies (TOEFL) each year at the IIK — more than at any other test center in Germany.

Further Training for Professional Advancement

Our business clients have particularly demanding schedules and we pride ourselves on working with them in the most individualized and efficient manner possible.

IIK Further Trainings

- help professionals upgrade their skills to facilitate job advancement
- update qualifications for a successful career jump
- help skilled employees acquire or expand upon key qualifications
- help professionals cope with daily challenges and prepare for further advancement

Advanced foreign language teacher training courses

- specialized in helping language instructors
- related to practice

Proximity to Universities

given our proximity to regional universities, we offer:

- the latest research regarding our course subjects
- small class size
- a lively and fast-paced learning style

IIK and Company Needs

In 2003 the IIK Firmenservice GmbH was founded in order to complement the non-profit IIK Düsseldorf e.V.'s course programme by tailor-made in-company training and services. In this way, commercial customers also benefit from IIK's extensive expertise in this field.
